Food, Drink, and Cell Phone Use in the Classics Library

The UC Classics Library is committed to protecting its priceless print collection, much of which has been acquired during its more than 100 years’ history, for future generations as well.

We are also committed to maintaining a clean, comfortable environment conducive to reflection, study, and intellectual pursuit.

Food and Drink

All food and drink (including water) are prohibited inside the Classics Library. Food and drink can be consumed in the Lobby, outside the Library proper, where there is also a water fountain. Researchers not in compliance with these guidelines may be asked to leave.

Cell Phones

Cell phones should be used only in areas where conversations do not disturb others (the Lobby, Circulation area). Please silence cell phone ringers in all study areas.
